

Sound Techniques

This DVD is part of a series that catches players like Martin Simpson, Big Jim Sullivan and Michael Messer in performance and conversation. A departure from the usual tutorial video, each DVD runs like a TV documentary with the players concerned being interviewed by Trevor Dann, the BAFTA award winning producer of Live Aid - and this is very much the key to the series' success.

Acoustic maestro Clive Carroll talks about his career, influences and guitars and the easy flow of conversation is punctuated regularly by live performances of several of his pieces. This alone adds up to some essential viewing for anyone interested in acoustic playing - but the DVD doesn't end there. In addition to the interview footage there are bonus features which include more specially recorded live performances, ranging in Clive's case from the traditional folk-flavoured to the classical showpiece Asturias. Excellent stuff! ★★★★★
